

S. Walter Packaging Announces Executive Promotions

Philadelphia, PA (February 19, 2019) – S. Walter Packaging, a leading provider of custom packaging solutions, recently announced that Gordon Summerfield has been promoted to Senior Vice President of Sales, Marketing, & Sourcing, and Robert Cunningham has been promoted to Senior Vice President of Operations.

“This is a very exciting time for the entire S. Walter family, as we position ourselves for long-term growth and success,” said President & CEO, Kurt Koloseike. “We are excited to see Gordon and Rob in these new roles, and confident that this new executive structure, combined with the current retail and economic momentum, will allow for a successful 2019 and beyond.”

Gordon Summerfield

Gordon joined S. Walter in 2017 as VP of Sales, coaching and mentoring sales reps across the country. He will now take on the role of Senior Vice President of Sales, Marketing, and Sourcing, working to support and grow sales, while also strengthening sourcing partnerships and customer experience.

“I am excited and honored to have the opportunity to oversee the sales, marketing, and sourcing teams at S. Walter,” said Summerfield. “Rob and I look forward to helping lead S. Walter into a new chapter of growth.”

Rob Cunningham

Rob has been with S. Walter for more than 10 years as the President of the promotional division. With a background in overseeing both manufacturing operations and sales management, he will now oversee all internal operations of the company, including customer service, purchasing, and warehousing / distribution.

“I am excited about my new role at S. Walter, and look forward to working in conjunction with Gordon to make sure our customer experience is first class,” said Cunningham. “This is a great opportunity to continue to move S. Walter forward in the industry, and to continue to be the leader in all forms of custom packaging.”
